FRIDAY, March 7-6 P. M. On 'Change to-day cotton was quiet and Mc. per pound easier for ordinary, on the spot, and 1-16c. a %c. lower for futures. Flour was quiet but steady. Wheat was less active but firmer, while corn was dull and unchanged.

THE DRY GOODS IMPORTS. The total imports of foreign dry goods at the port of New York for the week ending March 6, 1873, were of the specie value of $4,033,514. The amount marketed during the same period was $4,482,197.1 THE POREIGN MARKET.

The London quotations closed 1-16 per cent lower for consols and steady for most of the several descriptions of United States bonds, the '67's being exceptionally weak and 1/4 lower. Erie shares suddenly declined about one per cent for reasons not stated in the cable despatches. The new French loan was depressed by the continued illness of President Thiers and receded to 6% per cent premium, French rentes in Paris also being lower, at 56.80. The market for both these latter securities was unaffected, at least favorably, by an increase of 3,200,600 francs in the weekly report of the Bank of France. PURTHER DECLINE IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

The foreign exchange market was weak and demoralized under the advent of a "squeeze" in cash gold, especially as the tendency of capital is strongly in favor of this centre as between New York and London. As money, like water, will find its level, and as its use in New York on prime collaterals is worth all the way from 7 to 20 per cent, the wonder is that capital has not flowed more speedily in this direction. It is coming in a steady stream, however, and hence the consecutive reductions in the rates for bills on Europe. OUR EXPORTS are going abroad from this port at the rate of five or six millions a week, and to the extent of not less than seven or eight millions from all the other ports of the country, furnishing a further abundant source of exchange. To-day the leading bankers lowered the rates for sterling to 108 and 108%, but sales of prime sixty-day bills took place at 107%

(equivalent to 11% per cent per annum), advanced to % and interest (equivalent to 52 per cent per olelook closing at 1-16. The greater scarcity way due in part to the necessity of paying to-day for the million and a half of gold bought from the govern ment yesterday, and also to the repetition of artificial manipulation, both influences being so far combined that the parties who received the gov erament gold took care to pay for it when national bank currency would have served as well. In this connection it is further said that the morrow, and that money will be made twice as scarce as it was to-day; or, in other words, that quarter per cent. As to-morrow is Saturday, and the loans are then made for the two days to Monday, the Shylocks ought to run up the rate to 1/4 per cent, in order to make their promise good. Commercial paper continued nominal at 9 a 12 per cent discount for prime names. The call of the Comptroller of the Currency for a statement of the banks was for the 28th of Pebruary, last Friday, and not for Saturday, as was inadvertently stated GOVERNMENTS FIRMER.

The government list was firmer, with a recovery In the currency sixes to 114 and an advance of % in the '67's and ¼ a ¾ in the ten-forties. The new fives declined to 112% early in the day, but rapidly recovered to and closed at 113%, the change being due to the receipt of an official decision from the Comptroller of the Currency that ive national banks in making substitutions for the "called" five-twenties among their collaterals deposited at Washington must use the new fives. This ruling is said to be based upon a section of one of the many amendments to the laws governing the national banks, but is hardly regarded as just, in view of the fact that

NEW NATIONAL BANKS are at liberty to begin business upon the deposit of five-twenties as collaterals. GOLD STRONG—115% A 115%.
The gold market was strong under the furth manipulation of the clique, who advanced t price to 115%, which is the highest reached in or two years, or since September, 1870. The high point in 1871 was 115%, and the highest in 1872 w 115%. The beginning of a "squeeze" in cash go which was made worth 1-32 for its use in to-da deliveries despite the stringency in money, duces a belief that the clique have put the mark about as high as they deem it prudent for the pr ent, and intend to "milk the street" and "twist shorts." They claim that they own nearly all gold accessible in the city of New York, and, if n that they hold enough to make CASH GOLD SCARCE enough to pay them handsome daily consideration for its use. It is said that the militon and a hall government gold bought vesterday went to . Gould, who is reputed to be a leading memb of the pool. To the "shorts" the prospect is no therefore, a very agreeable one. On the oth hand gold is greatly, if not excessively, inflated, a if left to itself would tumble down at least five six per cent. With sight exchange at 108% there perhaps no bigger bubble in Wall street than go at 115%. After three o'clock business in g loans was continued, and as high as 1-64 a 1-32 w paid for the use of cash gold to-morrow. The course of the market is shown in the table:-

STOCKS UNSETTLED. The stock market opened strong and became fairly buoyant in the earlier hours of the day, fell off about mid-day and strengthened upagain at the second board, but with the recurrence of the stringent rates for money toward three o'clock deness lost pretty nearly all of the forenoon's improvement. which advanced from 128% to 136% and closed 136 a 13615. The recent gradual rise in this stock from the vicinity of 116 is now known to be referable to the quiet introduction of a bill at Albany to grant the company a number of generous privileges as to extending its horse car branches through the city, so as to connect important points with the Central Depot. The progress of this bill was not made public, and it was only when the Rajiroad Commitee reported it favorably to-day that the movement was revealed, with the effect on the stock above narrated. Rock Island advanced to 115% under circumstances which again suggest that the buyers are the Pennsylvania Railroad or Tom Scott party. Panama sold at 120% and Boston, Hartford and

NEW YORK, Friday-6 P. M. The general merchandise markets continued to improve in tone to-day, and there was greater buoyancy than during any day for some time past, while in certain quarters the improvement in feeling was accompanied by a corresponding improve-ment in prices. On the whole, however, the man-

kets were rather quiet, and business aggregated only moderate. Cotton was still dull. At the Produce Exchange flour was dull, wheat was firmer, but business was light. In consequence, corn was dull, and, in the absence of sales, wholly nominal at yesterday's quotations. Oats were unsettled and decidedly lower. Whiskey remained steady. Pork and lard were without decided change; a fair demand prevailed and prices were about the same—pork being, if any-thing, the turn dearer. Groceries remained quiet, and not essentially changed in value. Petroleum was dull. Naval stores were quiet, but steady. Wool was in moderate demand, and not materially changed in prices.

BROOKLYN AFFAIRS.

Scarlet Fever in Brooklyn. There were forty-one fatal cases of scarlet fever n Brooklyn during the months of January and February out of ninety cases reported—a decrease of 177 when compared with the corresponding months of last year.

A Husband Contesting His Wife's WIII. Thomas Nobie, of New Lots, L. I., is contesting the will of his wife, Sophia Krober Noble, which has been offered for probate in the Brooklyn Surro-gate's Court. The will, which was made on the 13th of November, 1871, bequeaths the testator's 13th of November, 1871, bequeaths the testator's property, amounting to only about $3,500, to several suburban Methodist churches and to Sophia Altmanterger, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Noble died in December, 1872. The formal objections of the contesting widower have not yet been filed, but it is intimated that the wire was infinenced by the pastors of the churches in question when she made the bequests to the churches, and that she was laboring under the effects of liquor when the will was executed.

The Ultimate Stockholders in the East River Bridge. .

Mayor Powell yesterday stated in reference to the proposed amendment to the bridge charter providing for five representatives from each city in the Board of Directors, instead of three, as now, in the Board of Directors, instead of three, as now, that the amendments in question had been introduced to increase the induence of the two cities in the Board, and to make public what had heretofore been kept to a great extent private. He did not doubt but that the two cities would ultimately take the whole of the stock, and he thought New York would move in the matter before the end of the present year. There was not a man in the company to-day who would not be ready to transfer his stock "when the proper time came," for, said the Mayor, "they had not entered into the enterprise for the purpose of making money." Comptroiler Schroeder thinks that if the management had always made everything they had done public they would never have become objects of suspicion.

A tall young Scotchman, apparently stepped briskly into Thomas McDonald's dry goods opening his coat, exposed a shawl which he offered for sale to the proprietor, intimating that it had been smuggied from a European steamer. A parley ensued between storekeeper and pedler, which resaited in a disagreement as to the price and the arrest of the latter on the charge of pedding without a license. The prisoner, who gave his name as Patrick McCormack, was taken before Chief of Police Campbell, yesterday forenoon, when it appeared that he really did have a permit, and that he had himself purchased the shawl from a New York house whose business card he exhibited. The "smuggling" part of the business was only resorted to in order to induce storekeepers to parchase—in fact, "a trick of the trade." McDonaid was greatly crestfallen at these developments, but insisted that McCormack was doing business under false pretences. The enterprising pedier was discharged. which resulted in a disagreement as to the price

The dead animal nuisance has been revived. George Swift has been awarded the contract, at $40 a day, for the removal of dead animals, and when he attends to his business the carcasses are taken down to the dock appropriated for that purnose in the Wallabout and thence removed in carried down to the dock and accumulated there until, despite the cold weather, a stench has arisen from the festering pile which has become almost from the festering pile which has become almost intolerable to the people in the vicinity. Acting Captain Campbell, of the Fourth police precinct, who made an investigation of the place, reported yesterday that he lound fourteen dead horses lying on the pier. The contractor's workmen, however, had begun to hoist them on the barge used to take them away. Attached to the same pier was a scow, partially covered, which he was informed had been continually used during the past five months for the reception of night soil and which had not during all that time perceptibly settled in the water and been sufficiently filled to require removal. It would appear from this statement that there is an opening in the bottom part of the scow, through which the night-soil escapes into the water as last as it is deposited in the vessel. The only explanation which the contractor affords why the dead animals have not been promptly removed is that the ice has prevented him from getting his barges in and out. Mr. Swift denies, that any such means as indicated above are used in the scow to allow the night-soil to escape. intolerable to the people in the vicinity. Acting

THE JERSEY CITY LIBEL SUITS.

A Newspaper Office Seized by the Shere

It is now more than a year since a libel suit for slander was brought against the proprietors of the Ecening Journal, of Jersey City, by Mr. J. W. Watts. Edwin James conducted the prosecution with C. H. Winfield, and the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing damages at $3,500. The defendants carried the case into the Supreme Court, and had it put off from term to term till the present one, when the verdict of the Court below was sussained, but the damages were reduced to $1,000. Chief Justice Beasley rendered the decision. Yesterday Sherinf Reinbardt preceeded to seize the effects in the office of the paper, as one of the proprietors, Mr. Dear, refused to pay the damages and costs; but finding that the Sherinf was inexorable he reluctantly handed over a check for the amount. This suit is only one of half a dozen against the same paper, and it is regarded as a test case. Mr. Watts' brother has a suit pending for the same ible, and Mr. Woods has another suit. Mr. Watts will bring a suit for each article in which the libels were continued, covering a period of several weeks. As the test case has been decided the gross amount of damages will be very heavy. In addition to this there are four indictments against the proprietors for libel, so that altogether the number of libel suits at one time is absolutely without a precedent. If the ervil suits now pending were to result in the same amount of damages and costs as that just concluded the total amount would reach $25,000.
